CHINESE CAVALRY ATTACK JAPANESE

EMINENT JAP LIBERAL HEAD ASSASSINATED

INOUYE, LEADER OF OPPOSITION, SHOT TO DEATH

BY GLENN BABB
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokyo, Feb. 9 (AP)—Junnosuke Inouye, eminent financier, liberal statesman and leader of the Minseito (opposition) party's campaign for the general election February 20, was assassinated tonight by a youth who is at least indirectly connected with the reactionary "patriotic" elements responsible for most of the political murders that have blackened Japan's recent history.

While the Manchurian campaign was in full swing, especially during the latter part of 1931, it was generally believed that both M. Inouye and Baron Shidehara, then foreign minister, were opposed to the use of military force. Both of them were said to be in danger for their lives.

M. Inouye, 63 years old and three times finance minister of Japan, was killed as he alighted from his motorcar in front of a primary school house, where a Minseito rally was to be held.

Killer Is Seized

A small figure in a shabby kimono and a dirty black felt hat emerged from the shadows of the school house gate and fired three times.

All the shots struck the former minister in the breast and he fell to the pavement, killed instantly.

Bystanders seized Tadashi Koguma, 22 years old, who comes from a farming district in the Ibaraki perfecture northeast of Tokyo. Police said he fired the shots.

The police, who held Koguma for murder, declared he had committed the crime because he blamed M. Inouye for financial policies that had put Japanese peasants in a desperate plight.

Police learned that the assassin, since his arrival in Tokyo, last December, had lived at the home of Inajiro Terada, member of the famous Kokuryukai, the "Black Dragon Society" made up of the most reactionary "patriotic" societies in Japan.

M. Inouye was finance minister in the short-lived "earthquake cabinet" formed by Admiral Count Gombei Yamamoto immediately after the great Tokyo quake of 1923.

Science Decides It Can't Help Child

New York, Feb. 9, (AP)—Medical science today made its last effort to save Diana Moore, 13 months old, from a life of idiocy and found it could do nothing.

A thorough examination of the child, whom doctors had hoped to save by an operation to enlarge the size of her skull, disclosed, surgeons said, that her case was "of a type that cannot be cured surgically or medically."

The examinations, Dr. Iago Caldston, executive secretary of the medical information bureau of the New York Academy of Medicine, said in a statement, showed Diana's mental development to be "only that average for a child of four months" and the intelligence quotient to be only one-third that of a normal child.

Jolson Recuperates From His Illness

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 9 (AP)—Al Jolson, comedian, who was confined to his bed last night with influenza, had recuperated tonight enough to play in a performance of "The Wonder Bar," with which he is touring the country. Last night's performance was cancelled because of Jolson's illness.

Full Pardon to Escaped Ohio Convict

Columbus, O., Feb. 9 (AP)—The state of Ohio today wrote off its books the charge that Lamont Signor is an escaped convict.

In issuing a full pardon to Signor, a member of the Pine Hill, N. J., school board, Governor George White relinquished any claim Ohio may have to him.

Signor escaped from the London prison farm, a branch of the Ohio penitentiary, sixteen years ago and was not heard of until last week when he was arrested at Auburn Terrace, N. J., on a charge that he and another man were stealing wood from a farmer. The wood was for a destitute man who, it was said, was in danger of suffering if fire was not provided.

Escaped in 1916

Governor White heard Signor's attorney, C. Lawrence Gregoria, tell that his client had led a respectable life since he went to the New Jersey community nine years ago. Then he said:

"Under normal conditions, the wood stealing would have attracted my attention, but in times like these, I see no reason for bringing him back to Ohio for helping a destitute friend."

Signor's record was discovered shortly after his arrest in New Jersey. His fingerprints showed that in reality he was Howard Penny, convicted for theft of a typewriter.

He was sent to prison in 1912. In June of 1916, he was transferred to the London farm, and the same day he walked away. He went south and joined the army. Later he married and settled down at Auburn Terrace, where he was elected a member of the Pine Hill school board.

His arrest last week caused his withdrawal from the race for renomination for the school board, but Gregoria indicated today he would re-enter the contest.

NOTED AUTHOR SERIOUSLY ILL

Edgar Wallace in Critical Condition at Beverly Hills

Beverly Hills, Cal., Feb. 9 (AP)—Edgar Wallace, 56, who rose from a home in the slums of London to world-wide fame as an author, was stricken here today with double pneumonia.

Attending physicians said Wallace had a chance for recovery if his vitality could outlast the disease. They said he had been in excellent health prior to the illness.

Wallace, one of the most prolific of modern writers, came here three months ago to write film scenarios. Arriving on Friday, he met studio executives, asked them what they wanted, and upon learning their wishes, appeared Monday with a 60,000 word novel.

Mystery Author

Wallace contracted a cold last week during unseasonable weather. Influenza developed and his condition suddenly became worse today.

His wife, who is living at the family home in London with their four children, was notified and made immediate arrangements to sail for the United States tomorrow.

Mystery stories and "thrillers" have been the specialty of the writer and he is known to have written more than 200 novels, about twenty plays and between 1300 and 1400 short fiction stories.

U. S. PROGRAM PRESENTED AT ARMS PARLEY

BUDGETARY METHOD APPROVED BY GIBSON

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER,
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Feb. 9 (AP)—America's nine-point program of disarmament, including a surprise endorsement of the principle of budgetary limitation on expenditures for war supplies, was presented before the disarmament conference today by Ambassador Hugh Gibson, acting chief of the American delegation.

The American spokesman shared the day's session with Chancellor Heinrich Bruening of Germany, who pledged his nation to general disarmament "of an unmistakable nature, such as the League of Nations covenant envisaged," and with Jose Carlos De Maceno Soares, Brazilian delegate, first representative of a smaller power to be heard.

Mr. Gibson spoke with great deliberation and emphasis. When he returned to his seat members of other delegations rushed up to shake his hand and to express their appreciation of the program he had presented.

U. S. Program

The American delegation made no mention of extending the present armaments truce and there was no reference to the Sino-Japanese conflict. In addition to the principle of budgetary limitation, the Gibson program included these points:

Acceptance of the "draft convention" prepared for the consideration of the conference; prolongation of the naval agreements concluded at Washington and London; further reduction of naval armaments; total abolition of submarines; effective measures to protect civilians from bombing from the air; total abolition of lethal gases and bacteriological warfare; limitation of armed forces on the basis of effectives necessary for the maintenance of internal order plus some suitable contingent for defense; restrictions on tanks and heavy mobile guns.

The delegates seemed especially pleased at America's acceptance of the usefulness of the budgetary method of limiting armaments. This was considered a decisive step forward in the American attitude, as the proposal was flatly rejected by the United States delegation at the meetings of the conference's preparatory commission, which prepared the "draft convention."

Request Diversion Of Highway Funds

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)Governor Brucker remained non-committal relative to a special session of the legislature today when advised that a proposal for highway fund diversion had been placed before the Detroit city council. The governor indicated, however, that he is not in sympathy with the suggestion. He reiterated that the state highway fund is now so obligated that no more than needed construction can be undertaken.

The Detroit proposal, it was understood, was to call a special session of the legislature to provide for the distribution of added highway funds "so the communities can pay their bills." It is assumed if the governor calls an extra session it will be for some purpose other than the diversion of highway funds.

Michigan Will Vote Democratic, Says Hart

Baltimore, Feb. 9 (AP)—Representative Michael J. Hart of Michigan today predicted that his state would cast its 17 electoral votes for the Democratic presidential candidate, and would elect a governor of the same political faith this year.

Speaking before the Democratic Women's Luncheon club of Baltimore, the Michigan congressman, the first Democrat elected from his district in 32 years, declared that at one time it was considered "socially incorrect" to be a Democrat in Michigan, but that "there has been a great change in sentiment."

Attacking what he termed the bureaucratic government in Washington, he declared there "was never such a dangerous form of government turned loose on the world since Lucifer went wrong."

Asserting there "is more invisible government in Washington than visible," he alleged the federal government "enters every activity of our lives and what is needed is less government in business and more business in government."

"There is more illicit liquor traffic in Michigan than anywhere else in the world, although Michigan is supposed to be dry," Representative Hart declared in attacking the prohibition law.

"Criminals all over the United States have connections there for the importation of liquor. I was one of those who wanted to see the country get rid of saloons, but I am not in favor of the regulation of people's social habits."

Recommending abolition of the Volstead act, the speaker declared he had come to believe that "you can't regulate morals by law."

Road Workers Plead Guilty to Bribery in Berrien Circuit Court

St. Joseph, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—Three former Berrien county road commissioners, two commission employes and eight contractors and material men pleaded guilty to accepting and giving bribes in circuit court today.

Jail sentences for the commissioners and their employes, and fines and costs for all were meted out by Circuit Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, who conducted the grand jury investigation which resulted in issuance of 18 indictments charging the transference of $7,410 in bribes.

Get Stiff Fines

Loren Snyder, Benton Harbor, commission chairman, must pay $3,500 in fine and costs and serve 30 days in jail, starting February 15. Commissioner Clarence Renbarger, Niles, was assessed $2,500 and Commissioner Silas Merritt, Three Oaks, $1,000. Each also must serve 30 days in jail. Thirty day sentences also were pronounced on Claude H. Baker, St. Joseph, former commission secretary, and James Hampton, Benton Harbor, former county surveyor, while Baker must pay $1,200 in fine and costs and Hampton $1,800.

The contractors pleading guilty and the amounts of their fines follow: Jacob Ackerman, Kewanee Ind., contractor, $50 fine and $100 costs; John Ackerman and Rollin Ackerman, Three Oaks, $250 each in fines and costs; William J. Cleary, Rochester, Ind., contractor, $50 fine and $100 costs; A. W. Taylor, LaPorte, Ind., contractor, $100 fine and $700 costs; Bert Keller, Chicago stone dealer, $100 fine and $300 costs; Claude Herriman, Aurora, Ill., stone dealer, $100 fine and $300 costs; John Yerrington, Benton township contractor, $100 fine and $300 costs.

George Gross, South Bend, Ind., contractor, was reported too ill to be in court. Arrangements were made for him to pay $500 into the Berrien county general fund upon promise of dismissal of the indictment against him.

Bryan Wise, now acting sheriff; William H. Baker, Benton Harbor sand and asphalt dealer; W. J. Lang, of the Lang Construction company, Chicago, and Jacob Rose, LaPorte, Ind., truck dealer, have refused to waive examination and their cases are set for hearing March 2.

FORD RIVER JOB TO START SOON

Bacco of Iron Mountain Is Low Bidder on M-35 Project

Eight contractors submitted bids yesterday for clearing, grading and installing drainage structures on M-35 from Escanaba to Ford River, a distance of 5.268 miles. The Bacco Construction Co., Iron Mountain, was the low bidder at $33,736.77. The Delta Contracting Co. of Escanaba had a bid of $36,925.98, C. G. Bridges of Escanaba submitted a proposal totalling $37,307.53, and the Northern Contracting Co., Norway, bid at $37,410.95. Other bidders were Willard J. Smith, Houghton; Carlson and Lundin, Menominee; Herman Holmes, Crystal Falls; Fitzpatrick and Gatiss, Munising.

Mr. Bacco announced that his firm was ready to start work immediately on receipt of notice of the awarding of the contract. The schedule calls for a completion of the job by Aug. 1, 1932. Clearing and grubbing is to be completed by May 1, and the culvert installations are to be ready by May 15. It is expected that over 50 men will be employed in addition to truck drivers, including about 25 hand shovelers, a power shovel crew of about a dozen men, a culvert crew of ten men and a clearing and grubbing crew.

Another highway improvement project, from Iron Mountain north to Twin Falls junction, 1.198 miles, was up for bids Tuesday at the highway department division office in Escanaba. This is also for grading and draining structures, and the same firm, the Bacco company, was the low bidder. The amount was $11,212.31. Other bids were: Benzie & Son, Norway, $12,867.60; Herman Holmes, Crystal Falls, $17,817.44; Delta Contracting Co., $18,248.08; Fitzpatrick & Gatiss, $20,629.97; Northern Contracting Co., Norway.

Winston Churchill Sees Empire State Building With Al

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith forsook political discussion temporarily today to point out the skyscrapers and bridges of New York to a distinguished visitor.

He had as his guest up in the tip of the Empire State building Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the British exchequer.

"Well, this is higher than I've ever been before," was Mr. Churchill's comment after they had visited the 86th floor and then the 102nd floor, right up under the cap of the mooring mast.

"It's as high as I've ever been—and probably as high as I'll ever get," the former governor replied with a chuckle.

Ecuador Goes Off The Gold Standard

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Feb. 9 (AP)—Ecuador went off the gold standard today until next November 10 and the Central Bank was ordered to call in all its foreign deposits for conversion to gold.

Under the suspension, exporters expected to pay their duties in gold and export collections will be deposited in the Central Bank.

Interest payments made to the bank will be applied to reimburse the institution for losses sustained on account of decline in the value of the pound sterling.

SHOUSE HOPES DEMO PARLEY IS WIDE OPEN

WANTS CONVENTION DELEGATES TO BE UNPLEDGED

BY BYRON PRICE,
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
(Copyright 1932, By The Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP)—A Democratic National convention unpledged in advance to any candidate was favored by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the party's executive committee, in a statement tonight to The Associated Press.

Asked to outline his position and that of the party headquarters over which he presides, Mr. Shouse denied directly that he, in combination with former Governor Smith and Chairman John J. Raskob, were seeking to block the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He declared both he and the national headquarters had maintained complete impartiality, and that in advising that delegates be instructed for no candidate his sole desire was to leave the convention free to make its choice in view of conditions at that moment.

Hopes To Retire

Mr. Shouse did not comment on the recent statement of Smith, which has rekindled discussion whether Smith and others are attempting to stop Roosevelt. It was in view of this widespread discussion that the executive committee chairman was asked his real intentions as a party official.

Among other things, he disclosed in his reply that he hopes to retire from party management after the convention, no matter who is nominated, and has no intention of accepting public office.

In his statement he said:

"The influence of Democratic national headquarters has not been thrown to the candidacy of any of the several distinguished gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in connection with the nomination for president.

"It would be wholly improper that this should be done. It would be just as unwise to direct that influence for the benefit of the leading candidate as to direct it for

M.L.S. APPEALS TO U. S. COURT

Railway Granted Temporary Injunction in Musgrove Case

Detroit, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Manistique & Lake Superior railroad today prepared to resume operations over its 60-mile right-of-way in the upper peninsula as a result of a temporary restraining order issued by Federal Judge Ernest A. O'Brien.

The railroad, which consists of seven locomotives and 200 coaches and freight cars, has been at a standstill since Feb. 4 when Schoolcraft county officials seized the property to satisfy a $16,000 damage verdict granted Mrs. Elizabeth Musgrove, of Manistique, whose husband was killed on the railroad several months ago.

The reopening of the railroad was a result of a petition filed in federal court by attorneys for the Wabash Railroad company who set forth that the Wabash owns $1,500,000 of the bonds of the Manistique & Lake Superior. The Wabash asked to be joined as parties to the suit.

Judge O'Brien ordered that Mrs. Musgrove be restrained from interfering with the operation of the railroad and set next Monday as the date for a hearing on a permanent injunction.

The order was granted to the railroad company through its receivers, Walter S. Franklin and Frank C. Nicodamus. The action was brought in federal court because the petitioners claimed interstate as well as intra-state commerce had been affected by the sheriff's action.

Hamburg Germany Has "Beer Strike"

Hamburg, Feb. 9 (AP)—Hamburg is undergoing a "beer strike." Of the city's four thousand saloons 2,100 have agreed not to sell beer in protest against a decree by Carl Goerdeler, the nation's price czar, ordering a price cut.

The establishments participating in the movement agreed to adorn their doors with signs reading, "During the beer strike no beer will be sold." Wines and other drinks not hit by the decree are being handled as usual.

State General Fund Dips Into Red Again

Lansing, Feb. 9 (AP)—The state general fund dipped into the red again today. O. B. Fuller, auditor general, reported the fund more than $200,000 below the line at the close of business.

The fund had shown a deficit for several months, at times hovering around the $10,000,000 mark. During January sufficient tax money was received to erase the deficit and build up a surplus of several hundred thousand dollars, but tax receipts have fallen off and revenues have failed to keep the fund even.

RUTH JUDD IN FITS OF TEARS

Condemned Trunk Slayer Loses Composure in Her Jail Cell

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 9 (AP)—Winnie Ruth Judd broke into fits of uncontrollable, nervous tears today after exhibiting iron composure when a jury convicted her of first degree murder and ordered the death penalty last night.

"She is just beginning to realize what it means," Sheriff J. R. McFadden said. He placed extra guards at the jail cell of the slender 27-year-old woman to prevent a possible attempt at suicide.

Mrs. Judd's aged parents, the Rev. and Mrs. H. J. McKinnell, were spared until today the knowledge of their daughter's fate.

"The Lord," Mr. McKinnell said, "will not visit this upon us, unless it is His will that it be done."

Seek New Trial

They were not in the courtroom when the jury of twelve men returned the death verdict for the murder of Agnes Anne LeRoi, who with Hedvig Samuelson, was slain last October. The state contends Mrs. Judd killed the two women out of jealousy and shipped the bodies in trunks to Los Angeles.

Between tears, Mrs. Judd assured jail attendants she bore no malice toward the court or the prosecution officers. She said she hoped her attorneys would be able to save her from the gallows.

Paul Schneck, chief of the defense, sought to comfort both the parents and Mrs. Judd with the assertion: "She will never be hanged."

Motion for a new trial will be made, he said, when Judge Howard C. Speakman pronounces sentence, February 23. A request for commutation of sentence by the board of pardons and paroles would be the next step.

TROOPS HOLD CHAPEI AFTER FIERCE FIGHT

SEVERE CASUALTIES ARE INFLICTED BY HORSEMEN

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1932, By The Associated Press)

Shanghai, Feb. 10 (Wednesday) (AP)—Chinese cavalry were reported to have ridden on Japanese machine gunners in a deadly saber attack today, only to be beaten off by bullets, as the Japanese reinforced their fighters for a new lunge on both the Chapei and Woosung forts.

Another day of fierce fighting at Chapei and the Woosung forts had failed to dislodge Chinese troops who held to their positions despite shellings from Japanese big guns and bombs from attacking airplanes.

There were unconfirmed rumors that a Japanese bombing plane had been disabled over Chapei by machine-gun fire in a battle with a Chinese pursuit plane. The Japanese plane was said to have escaped, although obviously hit by the Japanese fire.

Reports of the sensational cavalry attack on strong Japanese machine-gun replacements in Kiangwun, part of the battle-front in the Chinese section of Shanghai, lacked eye witnesses to verify them. But it was said that the horsemen inflicted severe casualties before they were beaten off.

Bullets Hit Quarter

Shells and bullets from the Chapei battle area continued to fall in the international settlement. Bullets thudded constantly against the walls of the Shanghai municipal police station on Dixwell road, in the no man's land of Hongkew, and the station was ordered evacuated.

The small body of foreign police was reluctant to quit the station, which for the past week has been the only occupied building in that sector of the international settlement. They said they would continue patrolling the district during the day.

The Japanese naval command was reported to be landing additional bluejackets at Woosung, while vernacular newspapers said the Chinese also were adding to the troops on both the Chapei and Woosung forts with a determination to resist Japanese operations on a more extensive scale.

Chinese machine gunners still protected the banks of Woosung Creek against the invaders, who labored incessantly to throw up a bridge across a stretch 200 to 300 feet wide.

Leaders of Chinese commerce and banking sent telegrams to Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state, and the prime ministers of Great Britain, France and Italy urging them to attempt to settle the dispute between China and Japan "in accordance with the ideals of the League of Nations, the Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty."

Otherwise, they said, they feared "a world catastrophe."

General Chiang Kwang-Nai, commander-in-chief of the Nineteenth Route army defending Shanghai, issued a manifesto saying he was fighting the Japanese not only in defense of China's territory but also in defense of the League of Nations covenant, the Kellogg-Briand peace pact and the nine-power treaty.

Will Rogers Back; He Didn't See Sphinx But Had Met Cal Coolidge

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Feb. 9, (AP)—Will Rogers came in today on the Europa leaving a wake of titters that circled the globe.

Back from an all-around-the-world trip, he explained carefully why he is the only man who ever visited Cairo without going to see the Sphinx.

"I'd already seen Mr. Coolidge," he said.

An assortment of ship news reporters and Europa passengers stood around guffawing as Mr. Rogers, whose job is to be funny, went to work.

Will Rogers

He came back, he said, to get in on the receiving end of President Hoover's anti-hoarding campaign.

"I hear every one is going to dig their dough out of their socks," he said, "and I didn't want to be away under the circumstances."

Garner's Job Swell

Conversation in Europe, he said, is sort of running just now on single track. "When you're introduced to somebody, they say, 'Glad to meet you, cancel the debts.'"

As for the Geneva disarmament parley, that was a swell show, like the Follies, only harder to crash. "The diplomats had all the tickets and they were selling them."

Mr. Rogers asked about all his old friends.

"Hahzit with Jimmie Walker?" he said. "Fine? Jimmie's doin'

STATE LABOR LEADERS MEET

Escanaba Organizations Represented by Clifford Beaudin

Kalamazoo, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—Declarations against any salary reduction for federal employes and in favor of the La Follette-Costigan bill for federal unemployment relief were placed in the hands of the resolutions committee of the Michigan Federation of Labor which opened its 43rd annual convention here today.

CLIFFORD BEAUDIN

The committee was asked to approve a resolution urging Senators Vandenberg and Couzens to support the direct relief bill. The anti-reduction declaration had strong support from Frank Wade of Flint, federation president, who declared in his opening address that the proposal to cut civil employes' pay is "wrong in principle."

Shorter Week

In his address Mr. Wade appealed for a shorter work week and urged the federation to interest itself in the problem of securing legal and medical aid for workers in injury compensation cases. The six-hour, five-day week was visualized by the president as coming in the near future.

Col. James Sinke of Lansing, executive officer of the Michigan Unemployment commission, told the convention that the commission is urging modernization of homes as an aid to the jobless and spoke favorably of "spreading" of employment among workers and families.

The Michigan Journeymen Barbers' association, meeting along with the larger body, completed its business today. The association advocated several changes in the laws governing the trade.

Clifford Beaudin, secretary of the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council, is representing the local labor organizations at the convention.

New Orleans Has Brilliant Carnival

New Orleans, Feb. 9 (AP)—Brushing aside the worries of the workaday, New Orleans entertained its population and a vast throng of visitors today with one of the most brilliant carnival celebrations of recent years.

Reenacting the ancient pre-Lenten Mardi Gras custom of merry-making, hundreds of thousands jammed the downtown sections, masked and costumed in countless variations of imaginative characters, to join in street dancing and to hail the glittering parades that swept in dazzling formations along confetti-covered pavements.

Joy was the order of the day as this pleasure-loving city theoretically bade adieu to the flesh for the forty days of Lent's fast and repentance.

Tristram and Isolde sauntered through the shopping district, brushing shoulders with Satan and Cupid and more modern friends from the comic strips, while bands blared on every corner, inviting all to dance on the wide business streets which were given over entirely to pedestrians.

The British Museum has a carving, dated 700 B. C., which shows an Assyrian king leading troops into battle while carrying an umbrella.

DEATH CLAIMS YOUNG WOMAN

Mrs. Reuben James Marcoe Dies at Local Hospital

Mrs. Reuben James Marcoe, 30, of Hermansville, passed away at the St. Francis hospital at 5:20 o'clock last evening from paralytic ileus following child birth.

Mrs. Marcoe was taken to the hospital on Saturday and Sunday she gave birth to a son who died. The condition of Mrs. Marcoe became steadily worse and a consultation of all Escanaba doctors was held yesterday in a futile effort to save the woman.

Mrs. Marcoe, formerly Agnes Mae Richer of this city, was born in Escanaba, May 17, 1901 and attended St. Anne's and St. Joseph parochial schools. After completing a course at Northern State Teacher's college she taught school for four years in Hermansville. On August 31, 1927 she was married to Reuben James Marcoe of Hermansville at St. Anne's church in Escanaba. The couple resided in Hermansville where Mr. Marcoe was employed with the IXL company.

Mrs. Marcoe was an active member of the St. Mary's church at Hermansville.

Joseph Grew Named To Succeed Forbes

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP)—While Chinese and Japanese stubbornly battled at Shanghai, President Hoover today named Joseph Clark Grew as ambassador to Tokyo.

A career diplomat of more than a quarter-century's service, he will be confronted in his new post with one of the most serious and delicate international situations of recent years.

He will succeed W. Cameron Forbes, whose intention of resigning was made known before the present trouble developed. Grew at present is ambassador to Turkey.

The crisis at Shanghai today drew to Secretary Stimson's office a succession of diplomats eager for the latest word on the situation. The callers included Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador; Nobile Giacomo Martino, the Italian ambassador, and Dr. Hawkling Yen, charge d'affaires of the Chinese legation.

Incomplete returns of the Canadian census taken last June set the population of the Dominion at about 10,360,000. Returns from isolated spots in the north held up final tabulations.

ANOTHER GIRL IS FOUND SLAIN

Fiend Busy in New York; 13-Year-Old Girl Murdered

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—The body of the second girl slain apparently by a fiend in New York within a week was found tonight after a watchful postal clerk noticed the word "murder" scribbled in the corner of a postcard.

Detectives, entering the vacant top floor apartment at the East 112th street address mentioned in the postcard, discovered the partly clothed body of Marie Rosales, 13, lying in a bathtub.

The girl had been assaulted, police said, and killed with a metal gas burner. Her skull was fractured and her face lacerated.

When the discovery was made police still were investigating the slaying of five year old Florence McDonnell, whose strangled body was found in the basement of a vacant Brooklyn shop last Saturday.

The postcard that led to the discovery of the Rosales girl's body was addressed to "Janitor, 1o East 112th street," it said:

"Go to the top floor. You'll find something that will interest you."

In a corner was written "it's a murder."

The card was mailed sometime during the afternoon from the vicinity of 112th street and Fifth avenue and would not have reached its destination until tomorrow morning.

Her aunt and her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Fernandez, with whom she had been living for the last two years, said she started on an errand to a nearby store yesterday afternoon and failed to return.

Phantom Robber Is Sought By Police

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Charles (Prettyboy) Floyd, Phantom bank robber and machine gunner, was hunted through eastern Oklahoma tonight while authorities sought to link him with the killing of a Kansas City detective yesterday and the wounding of a Tulsa officer early today.

The Oklahoma outlaw, wanted in several states for murders and bank robberies, was suspected as the leader who planned yesterday's attempted robbery of the Mercantile Trust company in Kansas City. Detective O. P. Carpenter met death in a hail of machine gun bullets as the bandits escaped.

One of four Tulsa officers who engaged in a gun fight with two men riding in a coupe here early this morning said he believed he recognized Floyd.

Tax On Kentucky Colonels Suggested

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9 (AP)—A new luxury tax, that upon the complimentary title of "Kentucky Colonel," bobbed up in the general assembly today.

Kentucky's last two governors, W. J. Fields and Flem D. Sampson, turned out "Colonels" by the bushel, or rather colonel's titles by the bushel.

Today both house and senate received a joint resolution designed to tax each person so honored $100 a year if he or she desires to use the title after expiration of the commission.

The resolution pointed to the state's financial plight and expressed belief Kentucky's "thousands of patriotic, courageous, loyal and fearless colonels," would come to her assistance.

No provision was made for collecting the tax from non-residents and so the house laughed and consigned the resolution to the fish and game committee.

ICE BREAKS UP; HEAVY DAMAGE

Equipment Lost; Several Men Rescued After Long Wade

Sebewaing, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—An unexpected break-up of ice on Saginaw Bay near here Tuesday afternoon cost commercial fishermen nets and equipment valued at more than $1,000 and endangered the lives of several men who eventually were brought safely to shore by rescuers who waded miles through icy waters.

Five men on an ice floe drifting into Lake Huron were rescued by Grover Pitcher, of Sebewaing. Alvin Ashbaker, of Fairgrove, walked miles over the ice-strewn waters to save five fishing companions.

Pitcher and his 16-year-old nephew, Collier Rubelt, were setting nets a mile and a half off shore when the main body of ice separated from the shore ice. Pitcher and Rubelt started to float out into the bay on a triangular shaped piece. A twist in the strong southwest wind sent them toward shore, and when about a mile from land, Pitcher jumped into the water about three feet deep, and waded to shore. He secured a boat, made his way through the ice floes and rescued his nephew as well as Charles Stamnitz, a Sebewaing fisherman, and two of his employes, Fred Wender and Arthur Gaeth.

Ashbaker and his brother, Delfred, were setting nets off Quanicassee when the ice cracked. He jumped and reached shore by wading and walking on ice. With the aid of a boat, he rescued his brother and four other men who had been fishing farther out on the ice.

The ice, at most places not more than six inches deep, dropped and broke when the wind changed the current of the water.

Chemical Explosion Shakes Buildings

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 9 (AP)—A powerful explosion in a chemical laboratory late today shook the University of Illinois campus, caused the early dismissal of classes, and severely burned A. E. Knauf, of Salem, Ohio, a post-graduate student and assistant in the chemistry department. Considerable equipment was damaged.

Knauf said he was making an experiment when the explosion occurred, but he added that he did not know what caused it.

Court Of Appeals Hears Arguments On Capone's Case

Chicago, Feb. 9 (AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals today took under advisement the arguments attacking the conviction and sentence of "Scarface Al" Capone as an income tax dodger.

In three hours of technical debate that never once brought up the name of Chicago's most notorious gangster, another chapter was written in the lengthy record of the government's battle against Capone and his fellow hoodlums.

The arguments were much the same as those which failed to impress the lower court, based principally on the alleged insufficiency of the indictment under which Capone was tried.

Capone remained in the county jail where he has been since Oct. 24 when he was sentenced to 11 years and fined $50,000 for violating the income tax laws.

Layton Fourth In Billiard Tourney

Chicago, Feb. 9 (AP)—Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., tonight won fourth place in the world three cushion billiards championship tournament playoff, defeating Gus Copulos of Eugene, Ore., 50 to 40, in 53 innings. Layton defeated Frank Scoville of Buffalo, N. Y., in the afternoon playoff match.

LOVED TO EAT, AND NOW SHE CAN!

Much of the suffering from so-called "indigestion" or acid-dyspepsia could be avoided if everyone could know what thousands like Miss Lillian Ralston have learned. This New York City business woman, who lives at 1160 Park Avenue, says:

"I suffered from headaches and heartburn after meals; couldn't sleep like I should; never felt right.

"For five years I experimented with medicines and treatments, until I learned about Pape's Diapepsin. I have used three packages now; have gained five pounds, and feel fine."

If you, too, suffer from sourness, gas, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, or pain after eating—either regularly or just at times, get a box of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist. Then you need never worry again about what you eat.

the benefit of the candidate who apparently has the least chance of success.

"From time to time articles have appeared in certain newspapers claiming a Smith-Raskob-Shouse combination to block the nomination of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

"At the recent meeting of the national committee in Washington Mr. Raskob called attention to a publication of this character and branded it properly as wholly without foundation. In spite of that fact, charges have emanated from friends of Governor Roosevelt to the effect that such a combination exists.

"I have not declared and I shall not declare for any candidate. I have placed at the disposal of each of the candidates, present or prospective, all of the information that our national headquarters has. I have talked personally in the frankest possible way with practically all of those whose names have been suggested for the nomination. I shall continue to do so whenever any one of them or the friends of any one of them seek information at my hands."

BRITISH TARIFF PLAN APPROVED

Two Members of Cabinet Vote Against Government Measure

BY P. H. MYRING,
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

London, Feb. 9 (AP)—The British government's 10 per cent tariff proposals were helped along by the house of commons tonight, but two cabinet members voted against the government in an upset of British parliamentary precedent.

Necessary financial resolutions attached to the tariff plan were adopted by a vote of 452 to 76, after which the house adopted another resolution empowering a special tariff commission to impose additional duties.

Vote Against Plan

The grave anxiety felt by those in charge of the national finance at the continued movement of capital away from Great Britain previously had been expressed by Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, in a speech moving adoption of the resolutions.

Sir Herbert Samuel, home secretary, and Sir Donald MacLean, president of the board of education, voted against the government. Both are free-trade Liberals and several of their Liberal supporters, including three holders of ministerial posts, followed them into the opposition voting lobby.

Their action, which was thought to be without precedent in British parliamentary history unless immediately followed by the downfall of the government, was under a recent "agreement to differ" by which free-trade ministers in the national government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald were permitted to vote and speak against tariffs and still retain their cabinet posts.

TAX RECEIPTS REDUCED AGAIN

$1,241,000,000 Necessary to Balance Budget by 1933 Year

Washington, Feb. 9, (AP)—A weary and harrassed house committee today heard the unpleasant news that the tax measure it's framing must yield an additional $455,000,000 to balance the lop-sided budget by the end of the 1933 fiscal year.

The treasury told the house ways and means committee some time ago that $920,000,000 was the sum needed to put the government's finances in order, but later this was revised to $786,000,000.

Through weeks of hearings the committeemen have had the latter figure in mind, but today Ogden L. Mills brought them further and gloomier information.

He gave it to the committee as it met behind closed doors to draft the bill, explaining it was based on "January lows and January lows are lower than we expected them to be."

Nominations Approved

From the committee immediately came word that the added $455,000,000 would be hard to find.

Meantime, other developments at the capitol brought to mind the shift of personnel of the men who have been directing the nation's fiscal policy.

Mills has been named secretary of the treasury, succeeding Andrew W. Mellon, who becomes ambassador to Great Britain.

The senate finance committee today approved the Mills nomination without dissent, at the same time acting favorably on the choice of Arthur A. Ballantine to succeed him.

Confirmation went over until tomorrow, however, on the request of Senator Norris, (R Neb.), but there was little doubt that the senate would give its approval to both.

The day also saw Mellon attend his last cabinet meeting. He has been a familiar figure at them for an eleven year period and has talked government problems over with three presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

A table submitted by Mills today showed a falling off in customs and internal revenue, which is expected to increase the deficit by $321,000,000.

This and the new estimates on the treasury program, make it necessary for the committee to draft a $1,241,000,000 tax bill, of which almost a half billion dollars must come from sources not suggested by the treasury.

Those farmers who are fortunate in possessing a liberal acreage of pasturing land were able to let their stock graze throughout a great part of the winter. One farmer, who is wintering forty-seven head of cattle and three horses, stated Thursday that up to the present he had saved quite ten tons of hay as a result of the mild weather. The surplus stock of feed will be baled in the near future and offered for sale.

BOND ISSUE WOULD BURDEN TAXPAYERS

Tabulation of statistics, showing that bonds totaling $6,000,000, authorized by Michigan municipalities during the period of July 1, 1931 to Jan. 15, 1932, remain unsold, can be accepted only as added proof that the city of Escanaba must find some other means for supplying unemployment funds, than a bond issue.

In spite of the fact that a bond issue, to provide funds for unemployment or any other purpose, means an added burden on an already overburdened property owning group and does not contemplate the division of a common burden among a common citizenship, there are those who still insist that a bond issue is the only solution of Escanaba's problem.

In the first place The Press does not believe that sufficient pressure could be brought upon the people of Escanaba to authorize, at this time, a bond issue for any purpose.

It has been established through the experience of other Michigan cities, that municipal bonds are today a drug on the market and cannot be sold through the usual channels. It is true that a small issue, authorized, might be sold to Escanaba banks and Escanaba investors, but Escanaba's needs are such that a small issue will not meet the situation and the authorization of such an issue would only make necessary the devising of such other plan for raising needed funds. Even if a bond issue of sufficient size to meet Escanaba's needs could be authorized and sold, the condition of the national bond market is such that the taxpayers of this city would be forced to pay next year and for many years in the future, a dollar for each ninety cents received from such a source today.

The Press believes that Escanaba's needs today demands the adoption of a plan that will provide funds for the period of the emergency, as well as a plan that will permit all sections of Escanaba's population, able to do so, to contribute to that fund.

The Press sincerely believes that the plan proposed, to place a surcharge of $1 a month on each electric and gas meter in use in this city, is the most workable as well as the most equitable plan that can be devised.

The plan contemplates the placing in the hands of the city council and an advisory committee, made up of representatives of every section of Escanaba's population, the duty of not only spending any fund that is raised, but also the duty of determining what individuals cannot afford to contribute to the fund. The plan contemplates, in addition, the application of funds received from other sources to make up any deficit that might develop through the inability of certain families to pay. Employes of the city of Escanaba have already provided for this fund between $600 and $700 a month, by accepting a voluntary reduction in pay; county officials have also taken similar action, to further swell this fund. In addition there are in Escanaba a considerable number of unattached men and women, who are working in this city, who would be unaffected by the proposed meter surcharge and who would willingly contribute a monthly amount to the unemployment fund.

This plan has already been endorsed by the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council, the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club, the Escanaba Woman's club, the Escanaba Rotary club and the Escanaba Kiwanis club. Each day this plan is being presented before an additional group of Escanaba citizens.

Each day new endorsers of this plan are being developed. And when finally presented to the city council for action, will have behind it a measure of public support that cannot be denied.

SEASON OF TRAFFIC DANGERS

Occurrence of three traffic fatalities in the county during the past month, the victims of which were three Escanabans, again emphasizes the dangers existing on the streets and highways during the winter season.

The year 1932 is getting off with a bad start with regard to traffic safety. No matter what amount of warning is given it seems that there always will be motorists who will be careless, placing their own lives and others in jeopardy.

Slippery pavements, frost and snow on automobile windshields and windows, and stormy weather when visibility is poor all contribute to the traffic toll of this season. Now is the time to drive carefully.

ONE BUSY MAN

Surely, it is better to give flowers when one is living, and the Daily Press feels the time is opportune to hand out a few verbal bouquets to L. A. Erickson, chairman of the Delta County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

For August is very much alive now. He's busy from morning until night, handling the Red Cross' welfare program in this county. In fair or stormy weather, he goes out on the highways and byways with his car, investigating cases of need and providing the necessary relief. His years of experience as a merchant in Escanaba are proving particularly valuable to the Red Cross for when he goes to a store to buy shoes, stockings or other articles for some poor family he is able to select real values.

Every day, Mr. Erickson is on the job for the Red Cross. All his spare time—which, in fact, being a retired business man, is practically all his time—he devotes to this cause. He also contributes the use of car. For all this service, he does not get even the proverbial dollar per year. August is doing more than his bit to relieve the sufferings of the unemployed in Delta county. May his example be followed by the other good citizens of this community.

WISE SPENDING

Wise saving is only one side of thrift. The other side is wise spending. In a time like this however, people are likely to think much more of saving, whether wisely or unwisely, than of spending, except for extreme necessities. Realizing this tendency, the National Thrift committee suggests various ways of wise spending.

It strikes at the folly of hoarding which has been manifested by men who ought to be ashamed of themselves for resorting to it. Have a bank account, the committee advises, and also shares in a building and loan association. Another suggestion is, Give more thought to the life insurance you now own—it is the quickest way to create an estate. Because "the home-buyer's dollar receives greater value today that at any time in recent years" the committee urges people to own their own homes. Present home-owners are advised to safeguard their investment by painting, repairing and modernizing their property.

Pay your bills promptly, is another admonition; by so doing you will maintain your credit and also help others to meet their obligations—don't be a part of anybody's frozen assets. Not all of these suggestions can be acted upon by everybody, but many persons can act on one or more of them. They emphasize something of which we need to be reminded. Just as three years ago people should have been urged to save wisely, so now they should be urged to spend wisely.

Coppery-tasting oysters really contain copper, a scientist has found. Now if someone would just start experimenting with goldfish!

From the Japanese answer to the League of Nations proposals, it would seem that the only thing Japan is not willing to do in China is stop fighting.

Chinese bandits who reduced the ransom of an American from $10,000,000 to $200,000 must have been reading the stock market news.

THE DIME-A-DANCE GIRL

(By NEA Service) BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, a salesgirl in Barclay's Department Store, lives with her mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her elder sister, MYRA, and her young brother, MIKE. The two girls support the family. Molly foolishly spends money saved to pay the rent. Ellen tries to get a job as a dance hall hostess at Dreamland and learns that she must have an evening dress. She has none. STEVEN BARCLAY, her employer, sees her crying and offers to give her a dress. Ellen proudly refuses but agrees to borrow a lovely white frock.

Ellen dines with Barclay and he drives her to Dreamland where he leaves her. TONY, another of the hostesses, befriends and advises Ellen. Ellen hates the cheapness of the dance hall, hates taking a 10-cent ticket to dance with all comers. She slaps a man who kisses her. JACOB SALOMON, the manager, is about to discharge her when a handsome young man asks to be introduced to her. He says his name is LARRY SMITH. He goes to buy tickets and while she waits for him, Ellen forgets that she hated Dreamland, forgets Barclay's kindness, forgets everything except Larry Smith.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Larry had bought a string of tickets, each marked "good for one dance." There were dozens. He dropped the ribbon of bright green over Ellen's bare arm so that it curled almost to the floor.

"That's for all evening," he told her. "No one else is to dance with you."

"I believe you've made a mistake," Ellen said, trying to temper the bubbling joyousness in her voice. "I think they sold you a railroad ticket to California."

"It does look like that."

Tony gliding past, summed up the incident with approving, interested eyes. The 17-year-old plainly considered the older girl to be her protege.

"I knew you'd be lucky, Ellen," she called over her shoulder and was gone.

"Now what did she mean?" Larry demanded.

"She meant I was lucky to find such a good—customer," Ellen advised him demurely.

"No. It's the customer who's lucky."

Their laughter rang out. Larry swept Ellen into his arms and they were caught into the emotion-laden atmosphere of the room. Boys and girls were dancing closely in the semi-darkness, cheek to cheek, heart to heart. Light frocks blurred against the darker clothes of the men; white, bare arms clutched at broad shoulders. There was no sound except the muted whine of the orchestra and the swish of dancing feet, and, from outside, through the open windows, the subdued uproar of a never resting Broadway.

Boys and girls, in the artificial darkness, were snatching feverishly at a little moment of tawdry romance, lest it pass them by, snatching at a moment of forgetfulness of daily tasks while the saxophones moaned.

Ellen and Larry bumped into a couple who had stopped for a passionate embrace. Ellen felt again that she would weep. She did not know quite why. But she knew that if Larry Smith attempted to embrace her in that furtive darkness something shining and young and beautiful would be gone forever. At the same time she knew that if he drew her close, close to him she could not resist.

"I don't seem to care much for this," he ventured at length, uncomfortably. And then abruptly, with no preliminaries, he asked, "What are you doing here?"

Ellen experienced a lightness and buoyancy of spirit as though something she feared had been passed. All at once she was able to laugh at herself. What a mad fool she had become. All of her values seemed changed. So much depended tonight upon so little. She saw that Larry was watching her face as he waited for her to answer. She gestured toward a sign on the wall.

They had to dance through the crowd and to the outskirts so that he could read. His own gray eyes lighted when he read that hostesses when dancing were limited in conversation to "yes" and "no."

"Do you like me a lot?" he inquired promptly.

Ellen feared that he would discern the swift hammering of her heart. She felt the color creeping into her face.

"Go on, tell me," he urged. "Yes or no?"

So he thought he would tease her!

"Yes," Ellen responded, but very dubiously indeed.

He looked disconcerted and then he added sheepishly, "Well that one seems to have been on me. So you think I'm taking an unfair advantage?"

"Yes!"

The second "yes" was emphatic and pointed. Their laughter rang out again.

"Well, what do you say," he suggested, "if we leave the mute dancing to those as likes it mute? I want to talk."

They were at a table and barely seated before he asked the second time, "What are you doing here?"

"Earning my living."

"Do you really mean that?"

He was plainly startled. She had on the tip of her tongue a tart retort and she observed that he was studying her dress. She had forgotten Steven Barclay until then—forgotten why she was at Dreamland, forgotten everything except that she was 20 years old and that life had become for her a thrilling and rose-hued miracle.

"Certainly I mean it," she replied.

There was no reason why she should explain to this young stranger how it happened that she was able to wear a Paris gown. It was impossible for her to do so. She had a passionate desire that he should know nothing of her responsibilities, of the care and fretting trouble which had shadowed her youth. She wanted only to laugh and to forget everything else. To him she must stand for gayety, for careless and irresponsible fun.

He was not Steven Barclay. How did she know how quickly she might, by any hasty or misjudged attempt to precipitate him into her life, turn that eager look into the expression of boredom that she had seen before.

She did not amplify her bare statement.

He was checked.

"Did you believe me," he asked, after a pause, "when I told the manager my name was Smith?"

"If you say it's Smith," Ellen observed irrelevantly, "then it must be Smith."

Her tone was clear, her eyes lucid and innocent. It was the young man's turn to flush.

"I'm afraid you won't understand," he began uncomfortably before that lucid gaze, "but anyhow I must explain. My name isn't Smith. When I said it was I hadn't decided—"

"Whether or not you'd trust me with the secret," Ellen supplied smoothly.

She was not offended. Larry drew a breath of relief.

"You're darn nice about it," he said. "Well, anyhow my name is Larry. Larry Harrowgate, age 27, occupation artist of sorts, prospects nothing!"

"I'm to take that as a warning?"

"If you want to take it that way."

They both laughed ecstatically.

"No, but seriously," he presently resumed in a voice which he tried hard to make brisk and sensible, "did you mean what you said—out on the floor? Do you really like me?"

"Seriously," she answered dutifully, although she still bubbled with excitement and laughter, "I do."

"Then that's that," he observed in satisfaction. "We're through with all the preliminaries. Now we can settle down and really get to know each other."

They were interrupted by a waiter demanding their order. Larry confessed to a ravenous appetite and not even Ellen's warning that the food might be bad prevented him from selecting almost everything on the bill of fare. When the waiter withdrew he began to rally her.

"What's wrong with you?" he inquired solicitously. "Are you a canary bird? I never saw a girl before who wouldn't eat on the slightest provocation."

"I didn't want to order anything," Ellen confessed in growing embarrassment, "because I get a percentage on what you pay."

"You foolish youngster! I wouldn't think you were a profiteer even if you'd ordered a diamon necklace. I couldn't have paid for it but then—you'll have to eat half of mine."

But when the food arrived sandwiches and cakes and a bowl of steaming chow mein, decorated with slivers of chicken, neither wanted to eat. They wanted to dance again and again, to dance forever or until they dropped from exhaustion. Like children on a holiday they skylarked about the floor. Again and again they discovered with pleased and excited exclamations how well their steps fitted. Amazing, thrilling to change quickly from the langorous grace of the tango to the rowdy breathless complications of the outmoded Charleston—amazing to dance with someone who moved almost as you moved.

The whole day had been the most exciting of Ellen's life. She almost hoped it would never end. But the ending, when it came, was sweetest of all.

"You make a big difference to me," Larry summarized it with simple fervor. "Just finding you, Ellen, has made my summer for me."

"I'm—I'm glad you found me."

"We'll go places and see things, won't we—you and I? We'll have fun, won't we? What do you say, Ellen?"

"Oh, grand," she murmured.

Even in the midst of her pleasure she wondered why he did not say anything more definite. She felt a little twinge of dismay at the thought he knew where to find her, if he never returned she must remain silent. How did she know how many girls he had laughed with just as he had laughed with her?

"What about tomorrow at tea?" he was asking eagerly. "You don't work Saturday afternoons, do you?"

She drew a long, fluttering breath.

"I'd love it."

She was gone.

DAD'S SECRET

We fathers are funny, so daughter would say:
We seem to grow gruffer the more we grow gray.
It's easy to love them when daughters are smaller.
But then you grow wiser, and then you grow taller.
And fathers are funny, a little afraid,
who fondled the baby, to fondle the maid.
We seem to grow sadder, we seem to grow colder,
Yes, fathers are funny when fathers are older.

And yet, here's a secret. We love you as dear
When the baby is gone and the maiden is here.
We can't seem to say it, we can't seem to show it,
But, daughters of ours, how we want you to know it!
So here is the secret we wish we could tell:
We think just as often, we love just as well
As we ever have loved you. There's only one other
We love any more. You won't mind? It's your mother.

In a desperate fight with a party of Indians which he attempted to place under arrest yesterday for trapping beaver and killing deer out of season, Deputy Game Warden Herman Leisner on Thursday afternoon shot John Sagataw through the right leg. The Indian was taken from the camp to Ralph and then taken to Iron Mountain by the warden.

Mr. Leisner had been told that the Indians were in camp near Ralph and that they were killing deer and trapping beaver. Late Thursday afternoon he came to the camp and found it barred. he was refused admittance. Finally one of the Indians threw open the door and armed with a large knife rushed at the warden. The warden quickly drew his revolver and shot his assailant through the leg. Other Indians rushed out of the camp and with knives and clubs threatened the warden, but he held them at bay with his gun and took the crippled prisoner to the L. Stephenson camp at Ralph, where he spent the night and yesterday took his prisoner to Iron Mountain.

Mrs. J. T. Bintner and daughter Alice will leave today for a visit with relatives in Chicago.

Mrs. Eli Cholette submitted to an operation for appendicitis at Delta County hospital and so far the operation has been successful.

We wonder if the peace Japan is talking about wanting from China shouldn't be spelled "piece."

HOW ABOUT A NEW GARBAGE CAN?

A young lady at the wheel of an automobile misjudged her curves and angles on the slippery pavement at Tenth and Ludington. Her car mounted the sidewalk and headed for a light pole, but a waste paper can standing alongside the pole acted as a shock-absorber. The car and pole came out of the mishap unharmed, but the garbage receiver was neatly flattened. The young lady hurried away without leaving her name and address, but maybe she'll come back today bringing a new garbage can.

YOUNG MAN GOES BACK TO FARM

The title of "farmer" has been prefixed to the name of a well known Escanaba resident, following his acquisition of five acres of city lots in a future residential section of the city. He refuses to be ruffled by the razzing of friends, and is already planning his schedule of crop rotation for the coming year. He'll bring his young family up, he says, where there's plenty of room for play and fresh air and grow his own fresh vegetables and fruits and vitamins A, B, C, D, etc.

His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cook, jr., live in the lower flat. Mr. Cook suffered a fractured skull, serious injury to his tongue, and his arm and shoulder are badly bruised. He has been in a semi-conscious condition and has spoken only a few words since Sunday evening.

Following their arraignment before C. F. Button, U. S. district court commissioner at Marquette, two Powers men and a resident of Daggett were bound over for trial at the April term of federal court on liquor law violation charges.

Frank Lauscher, 40, apprehended at a roadside store and refreshment parlor on the east side of US-41 in Powers, waived preliminary examination and furnished bond pending his appearance in April.

Norbert Verba, 23, arrested at a farmhouse six miles northwest of Daggett, demanded an examination on a charge of selling and possessing liquor and was bound over to district court. He could not furnish $3,000 bond and was committed to the county jail at Marquette.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Paramount presents an exceptional vehicle for intense dramatic action in "Ladies of the Big House," which is the feature at the Delft theatre today.

This picture has for its leading featured artists two talented personages who recently sprang into public favor because each possesses high dramatic ability, a distinct personality, and good looks, qualities essential to success.

Sylvia Sidney, who plays the leading woman's part, because of her outstanding work in "City Streets" with Gary Cooper, in "An American Tragedy" with Phillips Holmes, in "Street Scene" with William Collier and in her Broadway stage success, "Bad Girl."

She has as her leading man, Gene Raymond, who sprang into prominence in the Broadway stage production "Young Sinners," which brought him a screen contract. Recently he was featured in "Personal Maid" as Nancy Carroll's leading man.

Raymond's light blond complexion is a pleasing contrast to Miss Sidney's dark tresses in the "Ladies of the Big House," which is a gripping romantic love drama of the lives of two young people who on the eve of their wedding day are cruelly separated by the law.

Garden Fishermen Escape as Truck Falls Thru Ice

Garden, Feb. 9 (Special)—Local fishermen report another near tragedy here Monday when the rear part of the truck owned by Leo Lester of Van's Harbor broke through an air hole in the ice near Garden Bluff, four miles west of Garden.

Lester and two companions, Vernon Potvin and Fred Sharpe, were returning home with about three hundred pounds of whitefish which they had lifted when they unknowingly ran onto thin ice. The ice surrounding the hole was thick and safe so that there was no danger of the front wheels breaking through. The shanty which was in tow prevented the whole of the truck from going down through the hole. As the ice broke, the three men made an attempt to jump to safety. Lester and Potvin went into the water and after wallowing around for a short time managed to scramble out. Sharpe, who, incidentally, is a Chicago man spending the winter here and unaccustomed to the rigors of a fisherman's life, had been forewarned by Mr. Lester as to how to act in case of any such emergency. He jumped safely to solid ice and avoided a chilly plunge.

All of the men left the place and walked about a mile on their way home when they were overtaken by another fisherman's truck. The two unfortunate members of the party were fast bound in ice on their arrival home but did not suffer serious consequences. They returned the next day and were successful in getting the truck out without great difficulty. The accident happened over 33 feet of water.

An unusual number of near accidents are reported of fishermen who have had narrow escapes, breaking through thin ice.

Net Fashions New Lingerie

Paris (AP)—The newest lingerie is made of net instead of crepe de chine or satin. Slips and step-ins of cream or cafe au lait net are designed to fit closely to the figure in line with the demand for lingerie which shows no wrinkles under form-fitting frocks.

Most of them are trimmed with lace of deeper hue, since the vogue for lace which matches lingerie has passed from the style picture.

Bright Coats On French Riviera

Juan-Les-Pins, France—Bright coats over white frocks are smart for southern wear. The favorite combination is a bright red wool coat, designed with large sleeves and a wide collar crushed about the throat in scarf effect, worn over a white wool frock finished with a narrow red belt.

Rev. H. C. Long Of India Mission Baptist Speaker

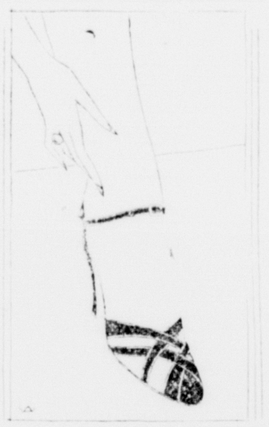

Rev. Herbert C. Long, one of the speakers of the mid-year meeting of the Baptist association which is to be held Thursday in the First Baptist church of this city, has been a missionary of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society in the Bengal-Orissa territory for 17 years.

Mr. Long has had the best of educational training for his work. After his graduation from William Jewell College he received his M. A. degree from Brown university and two years later was graduated from Newton Theological seminary. For several years he served as pastor of a church in Nebraska, then in 1916 sailed for India.

Upon his arrival on the field Mr. Long was designated to Midnapore, the third largest city in Bengal-Orissa. This city is the headquarters of the Midnapore district, an important commercial center and in it is located a government college with an enrollment of 800 students. The missionaries there are said to be responsible for the evangelization of about 1,000,000 people.

At first Mr. Long's time was spent in the necessary language study but within a comparatively short time he was asked to take charge of the station. Of course his duties were many and varied. His most important one, however, he considered to be the Bible School where he taught and looked after the welfare of the students. In this Bible School, the only one of its kind in all Bengal, practically every evangelist and pastor in the mission has been trained. He has thus had an unusual opportunity to influence those who will be Bengal's future leaders. In March 1925, in addition to his other duties, Mr. Long was appointed treasurer of the Bengal-Orissa mission.

Rotarians Hear Fine Talk on "World War"

An interesting address on "The World War" was given before the local Rotary club at its regular Monday noon meeting by T. J. Lynott, of Escanaba, who for four and one-half years served in the Canadian forces.

Mr. Lynott gave a graphic description of the fighting in the trenches and told of the heroism of the American troops who at the time were not sufficiently trained for warfare. The speaker told of the unpreparedness of the United States when it entered into the war. Interesting personal experiences were also related. Mr. Lynott is a keen student of the World War, being extremely well read on the subject, and his talk was enjoyed immensely.

A fine specialty number, a clog dance by Richard Dufour who was accompanied by Genevieve Corsche at the piano, completed the entertainment program.

Colorful Pageant Again To Be Presented in Chicago in 1933

Members of the Woman's Benefit association in Manistique have just received word of the invitation to present again their spectacular W. B. A. pageant in the Century of Progress Exposition to be held in Chicago in 1933. The pageant was an event of 1931 in Soldier Field, Chicago, which now forms a part of the new exposition grounds.

Ten thousand participants in colorful costume at that time presented the history of woman's effort from pioneer days and the repetition of this beautiful picture which was viewed by over $5,000 in July last, will appropriately form a part of the Century of Progress program.

The invitation from the South Park commission of Chicago and also the State Street council have been accepted by Supreme President Bina West Miller. The 3,000 local groups of the association are advised by President Miller, "The Century of Progress Exposition will be the world's greatest and most wonderful exposition Chicago has been preparing for years for this event and has created an entirely new setting on Lake Michigan that will surpass anything of the kind ever given in this country. Every country in the world will have its own building and exhibits."

Plan Travel Clubs

President Bertha Robertson and the officers of Review No. 47 will make special plans to help represent the state at the Grand Banquet, and in the Pageant of Progress, an experience which will not again be duplicated in the life-time of several generations.

Travel clubs are now being planned in every state by members of the Woman's Benefit association and a week's program will be arranged. Headquarters for the association will be in the Woman's building on the Exposition grounds where all important and outstanding women's activities will be displayed.

The Woman's Benefit association is the largest actuarially solvent fraternal benefit society in the world managed exclusively by women and was founded in 1892, a year before the first Chicago World's Fair.

Sewer Construction Charge Is Fixed

Property owners on Montana avenue will be required to pay $84.28, while those on Eleventh street will be required to pay $87.08 for the privilege of making connections with the trunk line sewer now under construction under the provisions of a resolution adopted by the City Commission Monday night.

The service connection charge is in lieu of a special assessment for sewer construction and is based on the cost of constructing a 10-inch service sewer. The charge is figured on a frontage basis of 56 feet and allows for the construction of a lateral sewer to the property line. For a greater or less property frontage the charge will be increased or reduced proportionately.

Under the terms of the resolution application for service connection must be filed with the city clerk and payment in full must be made in advance. The application may be filed at any time, now or in the future, and the cost will remain the same.

Pertinent Comment

According to newspaper reports, municipal bonds offered by cities of Michigan to the amount of more than $600,000 are unsold and investors are able to buy the highest type of bonds at discounts ranging from 2 to 10 per cent.

With this condition in the bond market, it is significant that $8,000,000 of Gladstone city bonds were sold Monday night at a premium.

Two conclusions to be drawn from this sale, are almost self-evident.

1. The credit of the city is on such sound basis that the bonds which they issue are an exceptional investment.

2. The banks of the city, which purchased the bonds are not inclined to take advantage of the city and force a sacrifice upon the taxpayers simply because of the depressed condition of the bond market.

With the banks the only bidders, and no others having shown any interest in the bond sale, they might have purchased the bonds at no more than par.

Gladstone may consider itself fortunate in having a city government which has maintained a high credit position and still more fortunate in having at the head of its financial institutions men who are sufficiently interested in the welfare of the city to sacrifice a portion of the profit that might accrue through an entirely selfish attitude.

FRAUD CASE TO CIRCUIT COURT

Thomas Goedert Files Appeal From Verdict of Guilty

Thomas Goedert, Jr., was fined $10.00 and costs with the alternative of 5 days in the county jail yesterday when he was found guilty of fraud, in the court of Justice A. D. Alguire. The case was brought to trial after several continuances. Upon his conviction, Goedert filed an appeal bond in the amount of $100.00 and the case will be carried to the circuit court.

The arrest of Goedert was made upon the complaint of Levi Brock, Escanaba township, who owns and operates a filling station. In his complaint, Brock alleged that Goedert had secured credit at his store by representing that he was employed at the Delta Chemical Co. plant. Purchases totalling $5.10 were made by Goedert before Brock learned that he was not employed.

It was brought out at the trial that Goedert appeared at the store and filling station on Oct. 1, with the request that he be given credit for gas, tobacco and other items, for which he would pay when he got his check from the chemical firm on the 25th of the month. Several times thereafter Goedert reappeared to secure additional credit.

Cross examination of the witnesses for the prosecution by Attorney N. C. Spencer, Escanaba, disclosed that previously Goedert had secured credit by agreeing to deliver wood to the Brock place. At the time of the alleged misrepresentation there was a balance on the old account of $1.70 still unpaid.

The defense admitted that Goedert was not employed at the Chemical plant and offered no testimony to counteract the evidence by the state.

Neither Prosecuting Attorney Glenn W. Jackson nor Defense Attorney Spencer argued the case.

15th Charity Ball Is Best Ever Held States Committee

Members of the committee in charge of the 15th annual Charity Ball, sponsored by the Child's Welfare club, are highly gratified with the success which marked this year's event, according to a statement given the Press yesterday.

The ball, held at Terrace Gardens Monday night, was one of the nicest and the crowd one of the largest that has ever attended the ball during the fifteen years it has been held, it was said. Everyone present had a delightful time and were greatly pleased with the music furnished by Charley Johnson and his Wolverine orchestra.

The committee also expressed their appreciation to Paul Wickert, proprietor of Terrace Gardens, who donated the use of his place for the ball and to the Delta County Road Commission, who not only plowed the roads leading to the Gardens, but also cleared a parking space adjacent to the hall.

A net profit of more than $200 was realized from the ball, it is reported, and this sum is to be added to the relief fund of the Welfare club.

NEW ALLOY TO BE MADE HERE?

Extraction of Magnesium from Limestone May Be Ford's Plan

The secrecy which surrounds the plans of the Ford Motor company in regard to the development of property purchased in the upper peninsula during the past year, including the limestone deposits, in Chippewa county, iron ore lands in Dickinson county and an industrial site in Gladstone have led to many conjectures as to just what the company may be planning.

One of the most recent of these "guesses" as to what the motor magnate has in mind concerns the recent discovery of methods of separating magnesium from limestone at a cost sufficiently low to warrant its use in alloys to replace steel and aluminum in the construction of automobiles.

It was pointed out by this "guesser" that in the process of refining ore the calcium content of limestone was a necessary element and that the magnesium which was contained in the stone had hitherto been a waste.

If it is true, this man querries, that magnesium can be separated from limestone in quantity and at a low cost, and at the same time make available the calcium for refining the low grade ores owned by Ford in the upper peninsula, isn't it likely that the purchase of low grade ore lands, limestone lands and an industrial site in a strategic location within a year were more than a coincidence?

The value of magnesium in the making of alloys has been known for many years, but until recently, its cost has been prohibitive. Since 1915 the Dow Chemical company, of Midland, Mich., has kept at the problem of winning metallic magnesium from the brines pumped from deep wells in that vicinity. The research has succeeded and now they are producing magnesium at a price so low as to compete with aluminum. Successful alloys have been made with aluminum, manganese, copper and cadmium, each with its own set of physical constants which designate it for certain special uses.

An automobile is now being built with steel springs and with cast iron or steel linings for the cylinders, but otherwise entirely of magnesium alloys, according to Business Briefs. The entire car will be so light that only a fraction of the power ordinarily required will be needed. To overcome possible difficulties in the light weight, its center of gravity will be much lower than in its predecessors. The manufacturer building this car was not made known by the publication.

"In another section of the country," Business Briefs continues, "a passenger railway car with steel chassis and the regulation wheels will otherwise be made of Dow metal, glass, synthetic molded resins and the usual upholstery. The saving in weight and consequently in the power required to move it should be phenomenal. Some day dwellings and other buildings will be fabricated, using such alloys in place of structural steel."

The Ford company has made no statement as to its plans in relation to the uses to which the Gladstone site will be put, nor has it been disclosed whether a chemical analysis of the limestone lands in Chippewa county show any appreciable magnesium content.

The ceremony was performed in the rectory of All Saints church at 4:00 o'clock with Rev. S. Maier reading the wedding service.

The bride was attended by Miss Matilda VanLandschoot, a niece of the bride. Edward Schroeder, a cousin of the groom, was the best man.

She wore a corsage of baby breath, sweet peas and gorget-me-nots. Miss VanLandschoot wore a pretty dress and hat in Spanish tile with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a quiet 7:00 o'clock dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Broeckaert, 1205 Montana avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Frost will make their home in Escanaba. The bride is a graduate of the All Saints school.

xx—Previous 1932 low.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—The last trace of the January rally all but faded from the Stock market today.

It was a very dull session, thus adhering to the pattern followed in recent sessions, but the snail-paced decline was sufficient to send the Standard Statistics-Associated Press composite to the new bear market low of 59.8, two-tenths of a point under the January 5 minimum.

Railroad and utility groups held above the old lows. Industrials, however, went through the resistance level established slightly more than a month ago when Wall Street was hoping that the first quarter of 1932 would bring much greater improvement in pivotal industries than has appeared. Many net losses were fractional; in few cases did they exceed a point.

Illinois Central omitted its $3 semi-annual preferred dividend, a step which had been forecast. The stock broke 4 points.

U. S. Steel with an unfilled tonnage statement coming tomorrow, refused to exert itself, either during a spell of desultory short covering in the forenoon or during the subsequent decline. It closed 1¼ lower. American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Du Pont, Case, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Santa Fe and Allied Chemical closed 1 to 1 5-8 off. Bethlehem, General Electric, American Can, North American and Westinghouse gave up fractions. American Tobacco "B" and National Biscuit firmed. Auburn's break below 100 for a net loss of 8¾ was one of the day's few high spots. A few large blocks of General Motors changed hands in the afternoon.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Feb. 9—All grains showed a decided downward trend today, largely as a result of New York Stock market setbacks.

Adding to pressure on wheat was a report from the United States department of agriculture showing that domestic disappearance of that grain for the 1931-32 season was 14,000,000 bushels smaller than the previous season, indicating that feed use of wheat had been greatly overestimated by most traders. A continuing bearish factor was government figures pointing to almost a billion bushels of wheat available for shipment or carryover in the four principal export countries previous to the end of the present crop year, June 30 next.

Wheat closed nervous, ½ to 7-8 under yesterday's finish, corn ½ to 3-4 down, oats ¼ to 5-8 off, and provisions showing 2 to 10 cents decline.

Corn and oats receded with wheat. Persistent slowness of shipping demand for corn was a handicap to bulls.

Provisions went to new low price records for the season. Packers and cash interests were sellers.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May, 56¼ to 3-8, 57 3-4; July, 57 1-8 to ¼, 58¼ to 3-8. Sept., 58½ to 5-8, 59 5-8 to 3-4. Corn—May, 37½ to 5-8, 38¼ to 3-8; July, 39 5-8, 40 3-8 to ½.

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Bond market steadied today, but was unable to maintain early improvement. Volume expanded considerably, much of the increased business coming in the earlier hours when prices were firmer. Sales amounted to $10,367,000 principal amount. The averages closed unchanged.

Substantial turnovers in several United States governments, notably the Liberty First 4¼s, attracted attention. The group tended to rally until after noon when news that the treasury would need more money than had been anticipated suggested the possibility of new security financing. Final changes in the group were mixed.

Rails were somewhat unsettled, although many of the larger losses were in second grade and speculative issues which again encountered a thin market.

Industrials and utilities were mixed. Foreign traded quietly.

The principle of ball bearings was patented in 1906.

Sportsmen Attend Negaunee Dinner

Floyd W. Marble, treasurer of the Northern Sportsmen's club, extended greetings from the Gladstone club at the Eleventh annual dinner of the Negaunee Rod and Gun club at Negaunee, Monday evening. Mr. Marble and Sid Gordon, of Gladstone represented the Sportsmen's club and H. W. Willis, Phil Hupy, Charles Riley and George Beaudry attended as representatives of the Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club.

The Gladstone group report an interesting meeting, in which matters pertaining to game and conservation were discussed at length. More than 300 were present at the dinner, it was reported, including leading sportsmen of the peninsula, officials from the conservation department and legislators.

The principle address at the dinner was delivered by George R. Hogarth, Chairman of the Conservation Commission. Mr. Hogarth laid before the group the problems which confront the commission, its plans for the future and its needs of the cooperation of all sportsmen interested in the development of the fishing, hunting and other recreational possibilities of Michigan.

He pointed out that a million acres of land had reverted to the state through non-payment of taxes and that much of this land was of no value either to private interests or to the state, since it is valueless either for game, fish, lumber, minerals or farming. Each year, he said, 200,000 additional acres were being relinquished to the state.

The Conservation Chairman reviewed the activity of his organization in forest fire fighting, hatchery operations, game propogation, and state park maintainance. He stated that he favored a general rod license instead of the special trout license, which has not worked to the satisfaction of the department and has not provided funds necessary to carry on the work of fish planting.

Other speakers included H. R. Sayre, Chief Conservation Officer, Lansing; Thomas Conlin, Crystal Falls; Peter Trudell, President of the Northern Sportsmen's club; Wm. H. Newett of the Conservation Commission; State Senator Charles Richardson of Marquette, and Dr. C. E. Ferries of the Houghton Rod and Gun club.

Curb Stocks Fail To Make Headway

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Stocks were still more inclined to work lower than higher in today's Curb market, but losses were again limited to small fractions in most of the more popular issues.

There was a notable relaxation of pressure against the utilities. The pace of trading quickened a little, the turnover approximating 230,000 shares, or about 30,000 more than yesterday's.

Leading utilities were generally about unchanged. Electric Bond and Share closed at 9 7-8, off 1-8.

In the oils, Standards sagged a little. Several of the industrials registered new lows, notable among which was Aluminum Co., off more than a point. Cord Corp. was depressed by heaviness of Auburn on the big board. It closed at 5, off 3-8.

In the mining issues, Newmont sold at 10, off nearly a point, and Hecla at 4½, off ¼.

INCREASE CHINA EXPORTS

Despite political and military hinderances, United States exports to China have increased about tenfold since 1900. In that year China took $12,533,000 worth of goods from the United States; in 1930 it took $106,560,300 worth of commodities.

EXPLAINS MYSTERY

Toronto—Prof. John McLennan, of the University of Toronto, offers the following explanation of why electricity will flow along a wire: When an electron enters a wire it charges into an atom, drives out one of its electrons, and takes the latter's place. The expelled electron jostles another atom in the same way, with the result that when one electron enters a wire, one electron, but not the same one, comes out at the other end. Clear, isn't it?

Rangers Play Green Bay Packers Here Tonight

HANK BRUDER LEADS SQUAD

Capacity House Certain To Be on Hand for Battle Royal

An exceptional basketball attraction is offered to Escanaba basketball fans tonight when the Escanaba Rangers play the Green Bay Packers at the Coliseum gymnasium. A preliminary game between two old rivals, Ramblers and Roughhousers, will be played at 7:45 o'clock with the feature game scheduled for 8:45 o'clock.

Led by Hank Bruder, the Northwestern football flash of a few years ago, the Green Bay Packers basketball team can boast a galaxy of nationally famous athletes, known from coast to coast for their outstanding football feats. Although these men have carved their names in the hall of sport fame because of their football reputations, they are not out of place on the basketball court as their record for the past two seasons will prove. In addition to Bruder, the basketball squadron is composed of Mike Michalski, Johnny Blood, Herber, Zeidmuller, Engelman, and other members of the famous football machine.

Reserved Seats

The Rangers, boasting one of the outstanding quintets in the northern peninsula, hope to defeat the Packers tonight to make their score with the Green Bay boys one-all. Last season the Packers won from the Rangers after a torrid scrap. The Escanaba starting lineup will probably be Folke Johannsson at center; Ray Warner and Ernie Johannsson, forwards, and Dauber Draftz and Shirley Warner, guards, with Johnny Andrews, Paul Boyd, Schram, Kholman and Gunkel ready to go into the scrap if their services are desired.

Three hundred reserved seats have been placed on the block and have been going at a rapid clip. These tickets are being sold at no extra charge to adults and will entitle the holders to reserved seats within the railing at the Coliseum gym, the best seats in the hall. It is unlikely that there will be any of these ducats left by this evening in view of the demand for reserved seats. However, if all of the tickets are not disposed of before the game, the tickets will go on sale at the window tonight, with first arrivals getting their choice of the lot.

Last year when the Packers played here, every available nook and corner of the gymnasium was crowded with eager basketball fans who immensely enjoyed the proceedings. Indications are that this year all of those fans will be back again and most of them will have a friend or two along with them to greet the athletes from Green Bay who have been playing before capacity crowds in one line of sport or another for years.

Crystal Falls Beats Ranger Quintet, 32-31

Crystal Falls, Feb. 9 (Special)—In a hectic battle, typical of the Crystal Falls-Escanaba games of last year, the Crystal Falls Ramblers eked out a 32 to 31 victory over the Escanaba Rangers here tonight to take the first game of the all-important series scheduled between the two outstanding independent basketball teams of the northern peninsula.

The lead switched back and forth from team to team through out the entire game, usually with only one point separating the quintets. In the closing seconds of the game, an Escanaba foul was declared and the Ramblers counted one point to take the lead again and the margin of victory.

Dauber Draftz was high scorer for the night with 13 points while Eddie Chambers scored 10 points for the victors.

The teams will play their second game at Escanaba on Feb. 21.

Crowley Denies Iowa Has Asked Him To Reconsider

East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—James H. Crowley, Michigan State football coach, said today negotiations between himself and University of Iowa officials had not been reopened with regard to the Hawkeye coaching assignment.

Reports from Iowa City said the choice of a new coach there is far from being determined. Director E. H. Lauer declined to comment on a report that a committee would come here to confer with Crowley.

Crowley has sent Iowa officials two telegrams informing them he is not interested in further negotiations for the post.

Six former champions were entered in the 1932 Texas open golf tournament.

MAXIE BACK IN SOLONS' GRACE

New York Moguls Lift Suspension on German Fighter

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—The last obstacle in the way of the world's heavyweight championship fight between Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey here in June was removed today when the New York State athletic commission lifted the suspension on the German fighter and Joe Jacobs, his manager.

Today's action was forecast a week ago when the commission accepted Schmeling's $25,000 as a guarantee of good faith and approved the contract, which was signed Jan. 29 a few hours before Schmeling returned to Germany. Sharkey also posted a $25,000 guarantee last week.

Jacobs and Schmeling, who has never been recognized as the world's champion by the New York commission, were suspended about 18 months ago for failure to keep a promise they made when Schmeling won from Sharkey on a foul at the Yankee stadium in June 1930. After the fight Schmeling and Jacobs promised the commission they would give Sharkey a return bout later in the year, but refused all overtures until arrangements for the June battle got under way last month.

NORWAY NEXT FOR ESKYMOS

Nordberg Cagers Oppose Leading Class C Quint Friday

Norway, Feb. 9—One of the highlights of the season for the Norway ...ngs, comparable only to its meeting with Iron Mountain, will be offered in the Viking gymnasium Friday evening when the rangy Class C title contenders face the invasion of the crack Escanaba squad, regarded as one of the best to ever step out of the Eskymo camp.

The Delta county crew is regarded as one of the teams to beat for regional Class B honors, having suffered but two defeats this year, one to Negaunee earlier in the season and last week to the Soo. Both of these are among the front rank teams of the peninsula.

In Second Place

Escanaba at present is in second place in the Little Nine conference, the newly formed league of Class B schools in the eastern half of the peninsula, and will get a crack at the leadership when it clashes with Iron Mountain in the final game of the season.

Norway's record itself is giving the team something of a peninsular-wide reputation. While the team has suffered three defeats in Class B games, two of them have been to Crystal Falls, and by two and four-point margins, and the other to Iron Mountain, which the Vikings pushed to the limt for three quarters.

Norway took the second fall out of Kingsford last week in a game that found the Vikings starting slowly, but winning the game by a comfortable margin once they got started.

Against Escanaba, however, it will be ruinous to start as slowly as the Vikes did against Kingsford, for if they take as long to get going, they will find Escanaba so far ahead that victory will be impossible.

Need No Pointing

Norway will need no pointing for this game as the natural rivalry and the opportunity of meeting one of the peninsula's leading teams will be stimulus enough. Norway has shown its ability to start fast and aggressively and continue this style of play until the last minute, so little worry is shown in the Viking camp over the slow affair at Kingsford.

Between halves of the main game, a tumbling team from one of the gymnasium classes will offer an exhibition.

Kelly, of Manistique, will be the referee.

Motor Boat Patrol Proves its Worth

Lansing—A motor launch forest fire patrol around Isle Royale, inaugurated two years ago by the Department of Conservation again proved its worth during the 1931 forest fire season according to the division of field administration of the Department of Conservation.

The Island, which has an area of 123,000 acres had only one small forest fire during the entire 1931 season. The fire resulted in the loss of one acre of forest cover and a total damage of $5.00. The fire occurred in merchantable timber but was extinguished before it had done any considerable harm. The record compares with 1930 when only one small fire was reported.

Because of the fact that there are no roads on the Island and that many forest areas cannot be reached with fire fighting equipment from land, a launch has been fitted out with portable water tanks, shovels, and other equipment. Patrols are made regularly with the boat by a forest fire warden.

Swiss Bob Sled Star Leads at End of First Day in 2-Man Event

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
(Ass'd Press Sports Writer)

Lake Placid, N. Y., Feb. 9 (AP)—Reto Capadrutt, slim young Swiss with the face of a cherub, and nerves of steel — the boy they're all afraid of—shot his two man bob down the torturous side of Mount Van Hoevenberg twice i nworld record time to distance all but the shrewdest of Yankee opposition in the greatest of all winter Olympic sports.

It was the start of the mad pursuit with death down the rock-studded mountain side, the first two heats of the two man bob sled competition. It took all the ingenuity Hubert Stevens, world record holder and ace of the United States forces, could muster to keep within shouting distance of the brilliant young sophomore from the University of Zurich.

Breaks Speed Record

As it was, Stevens salvaged the world record again out of the breath-taking tussle on the towering mountain, finishing the day with a dazzling, bullet-like dash on blow-torch heated runners, through the twenty five numbing curves of the snow crusted ice chute in 2 minutes, 4.27 seconds, as compared with his world mark at the start of the day, 2:09.

But in total time for the first two heats of the races that will be concluded tomorrow with another pair of runs, total time for the four determining the new Olympic two-man champion, Stevens, as well as the Olympic title defender, Jack Heaton, was forced to trail the sensational young Swiss by a wide margin.

Capadrutt, driving a pure white bob on knife-like runners that cleaved through the snow crust and sent him rocketing down the slide in 2:05.88 for the first heat, and 2:07.21 for the second, stood at the head of the list when the twelve bobs of eight nations had completed the day's runs with a total of 4:13.09. Stevens, despite his brilliant closing dash, past 10,000 howling spectators, pleading for him to win back the record, totalled 4 minutes, 17.37 seconds for the two heats, 4.28 seconds back of Cadadrutt. Heaton had runs of 2:15.02 and 2:07.51 to hold third place with a total of 4 minutes, 22.53 seconds.

Although the twelve riders among them bettered the old world record of 2:09 six times on the slide that sent six Germans to the hospital. None but Stevens and Heaton are considered to have a chance to catch Capadrutt tomorrow.

Not a single spill or accident marred the day.

There was only one hockey game on today's Olympic schedule. Canada smothered Poland under a rain of goals to win ten to nothing and increase its point total in the Olympic series to ten points. Canada is undefeated in five games while Poland is at the bottom of the list with as many defeats and no victory.

Included in the 13-game season are four schools against which the green and white teams has never before competed. They are Kingsford, Ishpeming, Negaunee, and Marquette high school. Local fans will only have the opportunity to seeing Kingsford in action as the other contests will be played away from home.

HERE'S FIRST HIT-AND-RUN AIR PILOT

By NEA Service

Erie, Pa.—Edward Rocknea, Angola, N. Y., pilot, has the distinction of being one of the first, if not the first hit-and-run airplane pilot in the United States.

He was flying near this city recently when he decided to land at a nearby field. He misjudged the size of the field and the plane ran on to a road, striking a pie truck and overturning it. He gave the plane the gun and soarer back into the sky.

A little further on he attempted to land at another field. As he brought his plane to a stop, officers met and arrested him. His plane was attached until he paid for damages to the pie truck.

CAMPBELL SET FOR BIG TEST

English Racer Hopes to Better World's Auto Speed Record

BY GAYLE TALBOT,
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Feb. 9 (AP)—Forty-eight years old, his hair thinning around the temples but his lust for speed undiminished, Sir Malcolm Campbell is here to risk his neck in an assault on his own land speed record of 245.733 miles an hour, established a year ago on the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla.

The popular Englishman, who has dedicated more than half his life to the conquest of space, arrived today aboard the Berengaria. After a brief visit with friends here, he will leave for Daytona Beach, hopeful of hurtling his Bluebird II down the sands at the greatest speed yet attained on land.

The eight-year-old Bluebird, originally built to travel 180 miles an hour, already is in Florida, being groomed by four mechanics who accompanied it from England.

If weather and beach conditions are ideal, Campbell said today, he may make his record attempt next Monday. If not then, as soon thereafter as feasible.

"I would rather not predict what speed I will make," he said. "All I can say for sure is I intend to get the last ounce of speed out of the old Bluebird."

The fact that "Wizard" Smith, Australian driver, has been tuning up on a beach in New Zealand preparatory to an attempt on the record influenced Campbell to make his present visit.

"We've been getting ready just in case Smith did succeed in beating my mark," he said.

Although he declined to predict he ever would attain a speed of 300 mils an hour, Campbell foresees a speed of almost twice that for future generations.

"There's absolutely no limit to the speed it is possible to make," he declared. "Every year we are making them faster, discovering means of adding horsepower and cutting down wind resistance. Who knows but what they will be traveling 400, 500 miles an hour one of these days?"

JUDGE CALLS E. C. UNDERWOOD

Supervisor Questioned Before One-Man Jury at Newberry

Newberry, Feb. 9 (Special)—E. C. Underwood, Luce county supervisor, against whom a charge of unlawful possession of fur is pending, was questioned before the one-man jury of Judge Lester S. Moll until a late hour last night. He was called in during the afternoon, and asked to return in the evening, bringing business records of his fur dealings. He has been the owner of the Natalie Fur Farm on the Tahquamenon which has now passed into other hands. William Eddy, caretaker of the farm was also questioned during the day and in the evening officers were asked to bring him in again. They had some trouble with the car getting off the road so that he got in too late for questioning. Furs taken by U. S. Special Warden E. C. McDonough and other officers when his residence was searched, were taken into the court room. Edward Bilitzke, assistant attorney general, worked with him over his records until after midnight.

Besides Underwood and Eddy Mrs. Dan Morton, keeper of an oil station at Peshims, was quizzed, but was only in the court room about a half hour.

The grand jury re-convened about two o'clock on Monday after a week-end recess starting on Friday night when Judge Moll went to Detroit and Mr. Bilitzke to Lansing. They returned on Monday, found a bad snow storm storm north of Clare, and left their car at the Straits, coming the rest of the way by train. As it looks now the court will close tonight, going to Sault Ste. Marie to follow the trail of the alleged million dollar beaver ring through indications brought out in the questioning of witnesses during the seven day session in Luce county during which 43 persons were quizzed, several of them being called back three or more times. Several local men have volunteered to appear before the court with subpoena and tell what they know of the business.

During the first days of the probe the halls of the Luce court house were thronged with witnesses, more than twenty of them being called one day from all parts of the eastern end of the peninsula. During the past day or so only a few were on hand at a time, these being, it appears, those from whom the court requires more information than from those earlier examined.

Sam Braude, Sault Ste. Marie fur dealer and junk man, who was given a 30 day jail sentence by Judge Moll when he failed to bring his business records, is still in jail. There has been no announcement of the disposal of his case nor of the justice court case of possession of untagged furs against Underwood. The latter is expected to be taken care of before the court goes to the Sault.

It is also reported that both Munising and Gladstone, and perhaps other upper peninsula cities, may see sessions of the court following that of the Sault.

U. P. Briefs

Stock Surrendered

Menominee—Fifty of 460 shares of second preferred Heywood-Wakefield stock surrendered today by the Detroit and Security Trust Company to the local Probate court go to the Marshall B. Lloyd fund to promote community health here. The 50 shares bring the total number of shares of this stock in the fund to 3,250. Chicago brokers were bidding $30 a share and asking $31.50 a share on the stock on Jan. 14.

The 460 shares of stock from the Marshall B. Lloyd estate had been held by the Detroit Trust company to meet possible liability arising from federal inheritance taxes on the estate. As all taxes have been paid Cyrus S. Lloyd, of Santa Anna, Calif., through his attorney, George Barstow, petitioned Probate Judge John Stiles to enter an order requiring the Detroit and Security Trust Company to show cause why the court should not order it to surrender the stock held as security against federal claims for inheritance taxes.

O'Hara To Run

Iron Mountain—John O'Hara, now serving his fourth consecutive term as probate judge of Dickinson county, will be a candidate for re-election in the fall primaries, it was made known today.

Clyde Luke, former fifth ward alderman in the city council on Saturday announced his candidacy for the office, on the Republican ticket, in opposition to O'Hara.

School Chief Quits

Ironwood—Pointing out that the Ironwood schools "are becoming entangled in a partisan and political struggle such as no school system can weather and escape disintegration," Du Fay R. Rice, superintendent of schools, has announced that he is definitely withdrawing his name from consideration as a candidate to succeed himself.

He declared that during the last two years political and factional strife has been of such a nature that he does not care to prolong the strenuous struggle. Because, he said, he has been the "political football" he deems it wise, for the sake of peace and harmony, "to withdraw myself from all question of concern after the present year is done."

Takes Own Life

Crystal Falls—After bidding goodbye to his son, Victor Kirkanaki, 50, late Saturday afternoon walked off behind one of the buildings on his farm near Toleen Spur, put the barrel of a rifle into his mouth, pulled the trigger and was instantly killed.

Lost In Storm

Sault Ste. Marie—Lost on the plains of Raco in a blizzard, two Sault youths were found, near exhaustion, late last night by Raco forest ranger, Phil Brandner, and three Brimley men.

The two Sault youths lost were N. T. Tavern, 508 Portage avenue, east, and Glen R. Farrish, 222 Ferris street. They in company with Lawrence DeMerse, also of the Sault, left their car on highway M-28 near Raco early Sunday and started to walk across country to Pendill's Lake to fish. They became lost. At 3 DeMerse started to find help and wandered about the plains four hours before he stumbled into the ranger station at 7:30 last night. He was so near exhaustion that he was unable to talk. After he was revived he told of his friend's plight. Fortunately he remembered the markings on a white post he had passed, a plantation post, with the legend P42-30-4. The ranger at once knew where to look.

Loses His Thumb

Lemmer to Report.

Bessemer — The perplexing problem of what to do with the county's two relief directors is expected to occupy a large share of the county board's attention at its meeting tomorrow morning in the courthouse.

At the last meeting, William F. Pellow, prosecuting attorney, advised the board that the county poor commissioners were without authority in hiring Wilbur McNamara and Axel Frederickson as relief directors. Since that time the poor commissioners held a meeting and decided to leave the question of employing the two men to the road commission.

Victor Lemmer, county auditor, has been directed to present a report on the wages paid county employes in 1932 as compared with 1931.

POWERS

Entertains Patients

Powers, Mich.—Charles Everhard of Menominee again demonstrated his unusual ability to impersonate cleverly the mannerisms and speech of different nationalities in a program given for the patients and nurses at Pinecrest sanatorium Thursday night.

Costumed as a junk dealer on a vacation tour, he rambled through a number of characteristic stories and jokes that provided entertainment of a sort that would be difficult to surpass, and kept the audience applauding vigorously throughout.

Buttsy Grey and his Collegians and "The Baled Hay Trio" of the American Legion Glee club were also on the program and their respective popular dance melodies and songs were greatly enjoyed.

Personal Items

The Rev. Mr. Shanks, pastor of the Methodist churchof Hermansville, conducted services at the sanatorium Thursday afternoon.

Miss Minnie L. Tronson left for Minnesota where she will spend a ten-day vacation with relatives and friends.

MULE CROSSES SUIT

Stockton, Cal.—A mule on the Stanislaus river bridge at 3 o'clock in the morning is the cause of a $25,000 damage suit filed here. It is alleged by the plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Pacheco, that as Mrs. Pacheco drove the family automobile across the bridge the mule loomed out of the darkness directly in the path of the oncoming car. In the collision, the car was catapulted off the bridge and into the river. The mule belongs to a dairy company.
